

LAKE COUNTY'S
FAVORITE WEEKLY
NEWSPAPERH. S. WINS 1ST
TOURNEY GAME
IN OVERTIME*Will Play Palatine Tonight;
Lake View Takes on Libertyville

In one of the most exciting games of the season, and probably of the tournament, Antioch slipped it over Barrington in an overtime game last night, 22-22. The score stood 22-22, and one minute to go. Just before the gun-shot Fuchs threw the ball, making the basket, but as the officials claimed the first bullet had not gone off, the basket did not count, and a minute of overtime followed. Barrington claimed the first basket, but Antioch followed when Brogan tossed one over. In the last minute, having blocked several Barrington attempts to shoot, the boys made a rush for the Antioch end, and Fuchs, with a successful long shot, won the game. The score:

Antioch	g f p
Fuchs (1)	3 0 1
Brogan (1)	3 1 3
King (1)	2 1 1
Kendall (2)	0 2 1
Jenrich (5)	0 0 1
Hughes (11)	1 0 0
Smith (7)	0 0 1
McGinn (1)	1 0 1
Menzel	1 0 3
McNeil	0 0 0

The game was closely fought throughout. In the early part, although Antioch retained the lead, the boys missed many of the short shots. At one time during the second half, Barrington gained the lead in a surprising rally, with Thorpe, Williams and Grabenbauer going strong. Reese and Bennett also scored.

Warren Withdraws. Tonight, instead of playing the 9 o'clock game, as was scheduled, Antioch plays Palatine at 7 o'clock. Warren having withdrawn from the tournament because of scarlet fever among the students. This gives Antioch a by till they play Elgin on Friday evening.

Lake Villa and Waukegan Win. Lake View, Chicago, defeated the Schurz school, also of Chicago, in a good defensive game last night, 27-17. Schurz made a fine struggle against their opponent's defense in the early part of the game, but were unable to hold the pace. Curtis, Wherry and Kowalski appear to be the star Lake View men. Libertyville and Lake View clash at 8 o'clock tonight.

It was rumored before the tournament that Waukegan was due for a trimming, but they seemed to acquire some of that elusive winning grit, and trounced the Roosevelt School of Chicago, 27-15, in spite of a start.

Just before the half the game grew tense when Waukegan overtook and passed their opponents. Both teams played a fast game, with Waukegan displaying fine passwork and defense. Densfield-Shields will play the Waukegan boys at 8 o'clock Friday.

The Lake View-Libertyville winner takes on the Antioch-Palatine victor at 2 o'clock Saturday, followed by a game between the Waukegan-Densfield winner and the Wauconda-Elgin winner.

"Abraham Lincoln" to Be Shown at Antioch*D. W. Griffith's Latest Production Will Be a Great Attraction Here

"Abraham Lincoln," the four star talking picture, as great or greater than "The Birth of a Nation," will be shown here Thursday and Friday, March 12 and 13, at the Antioch Theatre, under the auspices of the Future Farmers of America of the local high school chapter.

There will be a special matinee for grade school children Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

ANTIOCH FIREFIGHTERS FETE NEIGHBORING FLAME FIGHTERS

One hundred firemen from the volunteer departments at Fox Lake, Mundelein, and Silver Lake, Ills., were guests of the Antioch firemen here Monday night. At the Antioch Theatre the firemen witnessed a show of the "Third Alarm," a very fine one, of special interest to firemen.

WHITMORE EMPLOYS NEW SALESMEN FOR CHEVROLET

Two new salesmen were added to the Whitmore Chevrolet sales force here Monday. They are E. J. Seltzer, five years with Doc Boisell Chevrolet Company, South Bend, Ind., and Harold J. Tucker, twelve years with Uptown Motors, Chicago's largest distributor of Chevrolet cars.

Past Commanders
at Meeting Tonight

The Antioch Post of the American Legion tonight will honor five past commanders at the first annual past commanders' night to be celebrated by the post at the Danish Hall.

The chief speaker will be District Commander Charles Kapachull, of Deerfield, who will present past commander badges to Raymond Webb, Dr. George W. Jensen, Arthur M. Maplethorpe, Paul Chase and John L. Horan. The commanders served in the order named. The Antioch post was organized in 1925, with Raymond Webb as first commander.

Commander S. M. Walence, who will be in charge of the celebration tonight, has announced that the post is now in position to assist ex-service men file applications for loans. Many such applications have already been filed, Walence says.

MILLBURN FARMER
DIES IN CHICAGO*Chris Van Patten, Resident of County 30 Years, Is Infection Victim

Christian L. Van Patten, well-known Lake county farmer who passed away Sunday evening at the home of his sister in Chicago, was given a Masonic funeral by the Antioch Lodge No. 127 A. F. and A. M., of which he was a member, at the Millburn cemetery yesterday.

He had been failing in health for several years, and a short time ago he and his wife moved to the more comfortable quarters of his sister, Mrs. Anna Creason, 612 Stony Island ave., Chicago. He grew worse, and Sunday evening became the victim of fatal blood-poisoning which had set in. Funeral services were held in Chicago before the body was brought to Millburn.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Van Patten, of Albany, N. Y., where he was born April 9, 1855. He lived for several years in Iowa, and in 1895 married Miss Mary Schoop, at Manning, Ia. Six years later they moved to the farm southwest of Hickory Corners, where he has been engaged in farming for thirty years.

He is survived by his widow, three brothers and four sisters. No children were born to his marriage. Mrs. Van Patten has not yet made definite arrangements for her future place of residence.

Now Is the Time*For Smaller Towns to Seek New Industries

Springfield, Ill.—With business conditions causing industries to center attention on costs, A. R. Gwin, manager of the industrial development department of the Central Illinois Public Service Company, believes that now is the time for small cities to make arrangements for their future place of residence.

Many industries have found that they are not now located as advantageously as they should be, Mr. Gwin comments in a recent survey in the territory served by his company.

"These industries will be good prospects when conditions change. They will not hunt out your community and establish a plant on their own accord, but, instead, well organized and intelligent activity on the town's part will be necessary to secure the industry," he says.

He credits the tendency of business to move from congested centers to small towns to higher class labor, less overhead, and cheaper living expense for employees. Many other factors, such as an adequate supply of electricity and gas, are found to be equal.

Mr. Gwin predicts that "these towns which keep constantly on the job will be the ones which will make the first and greatest progress when the turn for the better comes. Those which merely wait for conditions to improve will wonder why industries chose other locations."

Await Relatives of Drink Victim

The body of Fred Kotzman, 65, Lake Villa character, who was found dead in his tent Monday morning, still lies at Strang's undertaking parlor, awaiting the arrival of relatives from Michigan. It will be given a military funeral, as he was a Spanish-American war veteran.

Kotzman has lived in a tent on a vacant lot for the past six years, working frequently on various golf courses. He was in the habit of going to public houses, the last of which caused his death, the coroner's verdict disclosed.

Dr. and Mrs. B. J. Corbin returned from their winter quarters in Florida Saturday.

MEN'S CLUB TO HOLD OPEN NIGHT
FOR NEXT PROGRAM

The Men's Club will hold an open night for their dinner and program next Thursday evening in conjunction with the Woman's Club, to which they invite anyone interested in hearing the two fine speakers, Dr. Yarrow and his assistant, Mrs. Morris, officers of the Illinois Vigilance Association of Chicago, with whom L. O. Bright, who has charge of the program, has made arrangements for interesting discussions.

These speakers were secured by the Woman's Club to speak before the students of the high school in the afternoon, and it is hoped that the parents will take advantage of this opportunity of hearing them in the evening. The dinner will begin promptly at 6:30, to allow the program to commence at 7:30. The dinner will be 50 cents per plate, but any one unable to be present for that will be welcome to hear the program.

The dinner will be served by the girls of the high school home economics department.

Golden Wedding Anniversary Was Celebrated Recently*Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Mc-
Greal Wedded in Salt Lake City, Utah

Fifty years ago last Thursday, the twenty-sixth of February, in the Valley Hotel hotel in Salt Lake City, Utah, Miss Rebecca Phillips became the bride of Thomas McGreal. Smartly clad in a brown cashmere dress, with trimmings of silk, soubouches and buttons, and actually a train, this girl began her matrimonial venture.

The interviewee was shown a picture taken upon the wedding day. Really, neither seemed to have aged much in those fifty years—Mr. McGreal is just as chipper today, and much more sportily dressed than he was then. Sporty is about the only word that properly describes his youthful attitude and attire.

"Yes, our married life has been very happy and free from friction," Mrs. McGreal laughed, upon being asked.

And her husband broke in, "We agreed when we were first married that neither was going to be the 'boss,' and that is so today."

"We have not had a hard life," Mrs. McGreal remarked happily. "We lived in Salt Lake City for a while, with all the conveniences of that time. Then we moved to Carey, Ida., where we lived for five years.

The interviewer, with mind picturing Indians and pioneering days, was insistent upon hardships, but these were disclaimed. "We suffered no hardships," continued Mrs. McGreal. "My husband had a fine position with the Ontario silver mills.

"Forty-five years ago we moved to Bristol township. There all our children were born on the farm, except Florence, our oldest daughter, who was born in Park City. Three years ago we moved into Antioch."

Mrs. McGreal was born in England two years ago, and came to Oregon, O., when a lass of 17. After two years, she moved with her family to Utah, where she met her husband.

Mr. McGreal is a native of the Emerald Isle, having been born there eighteen years ago, but when still a

GAY PIRATES

TICKET-SELLERS*Dress Rehearsal Indicates a Spirited Show for Real Performance

The probability of a sold-out house is indicated by the early reports from the pupils of the seventh and eighth grades who have been selling tickets for their big dual production of the "Knave of Hearts" and "Treasure Island" set for Friday evening, March 6, at the high school auditorium.

Rehearsals, which have been under way for a month and were completed with a dress rehearsal Wednesday evening, have been ominously satisfactory, according to the director. Those who have been privileged to see them say the youthful thespians show indications of giving a rare treat by way of a performance.

The plays which are under the sponsorship of the grade school Parent-Teacher Association, under the general charge of President Mrs. P. L. Chin, assisted by various committees, are being given to raise funds to pay for the school piano the association recently purchased. It is understood that a number of out of town people will be in the audience.

As the performance is a long one, the management has announced that the curtains will be raised at 8 o'clock sharp. They also suggest that those contemplating attendance secure their seats at once from one of the pupils handling them, as the seating capacity of the auditorium is limited, and there positively will be no tickets sold beyond capacity.

ANTIOCH'S NEW CHARACTER

By Leonard Fowler.

Long ago Antioch people have become used to new residents. But now the town is to have a new character, different from any that ever came before.

This latest addition to our city which grows in fame and beauty year by year is a trade mark girl, "The Little Nurse," and she is brought here by King's Drug Store and she is to live in the columns of The Antioch News every week for one whole year.

A long while ago Charles A. Dana's newspaper had an editorial in which a little girl was assured that "Santa Claus" was real.

These trade mark people are just as real as anything ever lived. The tailor displaying a suit pattern over his knee, the knight in armor on the Hart Schaffner & Marx horse, the lob cabin of the maple syrup ads, the dog listening to "His Master's Voice" and the little "Dutch Girl" chasing dirt, are all people who live in a world and work for their employers just like the rest of us.

King's Drug Store will introduce "The Little Nurse" to the readers of the News and before long she, too, will be as real as Santa Claus in hundreds and hundreds of families. She will take the news of the drug store into many, many homes, to be sure, but she will also take a smile, she will take some of the imagery of existence and she will do her bit to brighten life's drab monotony.

More power to her! May she live long and prosper!

Enthusiasm Greatest Business Asset, Whitmore Tells Dealers

Enthusiasm is the greatest business asset in the world. G. A. Whitmore told automobile dealers of southern Wisconsin and northern Illinois who met at Burlington Friday night. It was the annual get-together and dinner of dealers throughout the district. The problems of the automobile business were discussed.

In the course of his remarks, Mr. Whitmore, Antioch dealer who was one of the speakers, declared that enthusiasm beats money, power and influence.

"Single-handed, the enthusiast convinces and dominates where a small army of workers scarcely raise a tremor of interest," Mr. Whitmore said. "Enthusiasm is faith in action; and faith and initiative rightly combined remove mountainous barriers and achieve the unheard of and miraculous. Set the germ of enthusiasm afire in your business; carry it in your attitude and manner; it spreads like a contagion and influences every fibre of industry. It begets and inspires effects you did not dream of; it means life—real and virile; it means spontaneous bed-rock results—the vital things that pay dividends to all humankind."

"Let us cultivate enthusiasm, optimism, and confidence in our everyday lives—in ourselves."

COUNCIL CHAMBER IS RE-DECORATED—GIFT OF AMERICAN LEGION

When village board members gathered at the village hall Tuesday evening for the March meeting they found a newly decorated council chamber, a gift to the village by the Antioch American Legion post. William Halwas did the work, and a very fine job he did of it, too, according to board members who gave a vote of thanks to the Legion and to Mr. Halwas.

The room is used as a meeting place for the Legion and also for the firemen.

"The room never looked better," was the comment of Mayor George B. Bartlett.

Village Asks for Bids On Street Widening

For the second time within a year the street and alley committee of the board of trustees of Antioch ask for sealed bids for widening Main street at the intersection of Orchard street.

Specifications are on file at the office of H. P. Lowry, chairman of the street and alley committee. Bids are to be in not later than 12 o'clock noon Saturday, March 21, the committee announced, and each bid is to be accompanied by a certified check for 5 per cent of the bid.

This work should be completed this year, board members say, and if no bids are received this time the street and alley committee will take charge of the work.

Will Improve Drainage

Among the other important matters brought to the attention of the board at the meeting Tuesday night was the project for improving the drainage on Quality street. It had been almost impossible to keep the street surface in good condition, due to faulty drainage, and the street and alley committee was instructed to take immediate steps to remedy the condition.

Two new sections of street will be laid in the high school gymnasium from March 9 to 14, of next week. All the industrial teams of Waukegan are competing, and several others, including the Trommet Rangers, and the Grayslake A. C. Antioch has not received an announcement of their first opponent as yet.</p

TREVOR PUPILS WRITE CIVICS EXAMINATION

School Society Presents Program Commemorating February Heroes

The following pupils took the county civics examination Friday morning: Vernon Runyard, Lawrence Hanson, Raymond Schumacher, Josephine Larwin, Dorothy Pepper, Irene Waters and Nina Mark.

Friday afternoon the school society gave their monthly program. The lives of Washington, Lincoln, Edison and Longfellow were woven into the program, since February was the birth month of these heroes.

The program follows:

Song "America, the Beautiful," all.

High Lights on Edison's Life, Josephine Larwin.

Current Event, Mary Runyard.

Reading, "The 22nd of February," Lawrence Hanson.

Character Delineation of Lincoln, Vernon Runyard.

"Washington's Natal Day," Gerald Runyard.

"Star Spangled Banner," all.

Boyhood of Washington, Nina Murk.

Later Life of Washington, Irene Waters.

"Arrow and the Song," Dorothy Pepper.

"Village Blacksmith," Mildred Zimmerman.

Manhood of Lincoln, Barbara Fitzer.

"Many Flags of Many Lands," all.

The program committee for March is composed of Lawrence Hanson and Raymond Schumacher.

Mrs. Ann Kimmel and James Hunt are sick with the flu.

Ambrose Runyard is slowly gaining but is still confined to his bed.

The Willing Workers met with Mrs. John Holzshuh Thursday afternoon. Her mother, Mrs. Johnson, a sister, Mrs. Schultz, and Mrs. Thompson, all of Chicago, were present. Mrs. Thompson gave a very interesting talk on child welfare work in which she has been active for fifteen years. Mrs. Daniel Longman invited the ladies to meet with her in two weeks.

Miss Estelle Runyard, of Chicago, spent the week-end with her sister, Mrs. Harold Mickle.

Seventy cows were sold at the auction sale at the stockyards Tuesday, and 200 horses Friday.

Mr. DeLancey spent the past week in Dakota.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Fleming, of Chicago, and the Ed Elkerton family, of Kenosha, were Sunday visitors at the Fleming home.

The teachers, Miss Schmidtars and Miss Stollenwerk, spent the week-end at their respective homes in Honey Creek and Waukegan.

Mr. and Mrs. Nels Christensen and son, Donald, and Mr. and Mrs. Ola Christensen, of Racine, were Monday evening dinner guests at the Klaus Mark home.

Mrs. Friedhoff was pleasantly surprised at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Rausch, at Wilmette, Tuesday afternoon, in honor of her birthday anniversary.

Mrs. Charles Oetting was a Chicago visitor Wednesday.

Mrs. Emery Schonscheck and infant daughter, of Charma Lake, returned from the Memorial hospital, in Waukegan, Wednesday, and is spending a few days at the Fred Forster home.

Mrs. Charles Oetting called on Mrs. Julius Lingen at the Burlington hospital Wednesday, and on her mother, Mrs. Frank Lisco, at Powers Lake, who returned home with her and attended the 500 and buncy party at Social Center hall in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Heinrich visited friends in Chicago the past week.

Wednesday morning Arthur Runyard had the misfortune to break his right arm while cranking a tractor.

Mrs. Louise Derler is entertaining her father from Hinsdale, Ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Klaus Mark visited at the Andrew Hanson home, in Bristol, Thursday.

Mrs. Daniel Longman and son, Russell, and daughter, Bernice, called on her daughter, Mrs. Willie Sheen, at the isolation hospital in Kenosha, Saturday.

Christ Severs and a friend, of Chicago, were Sunday callers at the Klaus Mark home.

Mrs. Helen Hallet, Mr. and Mrs. James Lamb and daughter, Betty June, and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Glerum, of Kenosha, were Sunday callers at the Joseph Smith home.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Longman have sold the lot adjoining their home to the Standard Oil Company for an oil station and lunch room.

Mrs. Byron Patrick, of Salem, called on the Patrick sisters Monday afternoon.

HOME BUREAU MEMBERSHIP IS NOW INCREASING

County Farmers to Take Samples of Soil to Be Tested

Mrs. Kathryn Van Aken, Bureau state leader in Home Bureau work, met with the group of women who are working for the organization of a Home Bureau in Lake county, last Friday afternoon, at Grayslake.

Since this organization meeting, many membership applications are coming in to the Farm Bureau office, and 150 out of the required 400 are now in the office.

Several communities have not been touched, while others that have had the opportunity are signing up very fast. To date, Warren township has thirty-six members, and Avon twenty-seven.

The women left the meeting last Friday determined to put over this Home Bureau organization during the early part of March, and according to reports coming in to the Farm Bureau office many of them are working hard. It is hoped to have the organization completed at an early date so that Girls' 4-H club work can make as rapid strides as boys' work is making.

Many of the organized counties in the state are making special effort and putting on special projects whereby they may learn how to maintain the same standard of living with decreased income.

The Home Bureau renders untold services to home-makers and assists

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Christ Jesus" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday March 1.

The Golden Text was, "Rejoice greatly, O daughter of Zion; shout, O daughter of Jerusalem: behold, thy King cometh unto thee: he is just, and having salvation" (Zechariah 9:9).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "How beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of him that bringeth good tidings, that publisheth peace; that bringeth good tidings of good, that publisheth salvation; that saith unto Zion, Thy God reigneth" (Isaiah 52:7).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "He, who would reach the source and find the divine remedy for every ill, must not try to climb the hill of Selenus by some other road. . . . We must forsake the foundation of material systems, however time-honored, if we would gain the Christ as our only Saviour" (p. 326).

How to play Bridge AUCTION or CONTRACT

by Wynne Ferguson

Author of "PRACTICAL AUCTION BRIDGE"

Copyright, 1930 by Hoyte, Jr.

ARTICLE No. 7

Here are three example hands that were played recently at one of the New York Clubs. Test your knowledge of the game by working out solutions. The solutions, when compared with the ones given in the next article, will enable you to get a good comparative line on your game.

Problem No. 3

Hearts — K, 9, 7, 5
Clubs — Q, 7, 6
Diamonds — Q, 3
Spades — A, K, Q, 3

Hearts — 8, 4, 2
Clubs — 4
Diamonds — K, J, 8, 6
Spades — J, 8, 7, 4, 2

Hearts — Q, J, 10, 6
Clubs — A, J, 9
Diamonds — A, 10, 7, 2
Spades — 9, 5

AUCTION BIDDING:

No score rubber game. Z dealt, bid one no trump and all passed. If A opened the five of clubs, how can Z score a small slam against any defense?

CONTRACT BIDDING:

Z one no trump; A pass; Y three spades; B pass. Z should now bid three no trumps. A should pass and Y, with a very strong hand, should bid six no trumps.

Solution in the next article.

Problem No. 4

Hearts — 7, 6
Clubs — A, J, 6, 4
Diamonds — A, 10, 7, 4, 2
Spades — 10, 6

Hearts — A, 10, 3, 2
Clubs — 8
Diamonds — Q, 6
Spades — A, 9, 8, 4, 3, 2

Hearts — K, Q, J, 9, 8, 5
Clubs — K, Q, 7
Diamonds — K
Spades — Q, J, 5

AUCTION BIDDING:

No score, rubber game. Z dealt and bid one heart. A passed, Y bid two diamonds and B bid two spades. Z bid three hearts and all passed. A opened the king of spades, which held the trick. He continued with the seven of spades. B won this trick with the ace and the problem is to pick out B's correct lead at the third trick and the reasons for it. This is an interesting hand, so try to figure out what B should do and why.

CONTRACT BIDDING:

Z as dealer, should bid one heart. A should pass. Y should bid two diamonds and B should bid two spades. Z should bid three hearts, A should pass and Y should bid four hearts. B should pass, for a double would locate the heart strength. The play is the same as at Auction.

Solution in the next article.

Problem No. 5

Hearts — J, 10, 4, 3
Clubs — Q, J
Diamonds — 10, 9, 7, 2
Spades — A, 10, 9

Hearts — Y
Clubs — Z
Diamonds — A
Spades — B

AUCTION BIDDING:

No score, first game. Z dealt; bid one no trump and all passed. What is A's proper opening lead? This looks like an easy one, but there is a considerable difference of opinion, so think it over.

CONTRACT BIDDING:

Y is at the same. Solution in the next article.

Solution to Problem No. 2

Hearts — 10
Clubs — J, 10, 4
Diamonds — Q, 10, 4, 3
Spades — none

Hearts — 4
Clubs — none
Diamonds — J, 8, 7, 6, 5
Spades — Q, 8

Hearts — J, 9, 5
Clubs — 9, 6, 5
Diamonds — none
Spades — 8, 6

There are no trumps and Z is the lead. How can Y Z win five of the eight tricks against any defense?

Solution: Z should lead the six of spades, which A can win, either (a) in A's hand with the nine of spades, or (b) in B's hand with queen of spades.

(a) Suppose A wins the first trick with the nine of spades. A's best play is the six of hearts, which Y wins. The latter should now play the queen of diamonds, on which Z should discard the eight of spades and A the seven of hearts. At trick four, Y should lead the ace of hearts and follow with the ten of clubs, Y should again play the ten of clubs and the result is the same.

If A plays the seven of clubs at trick two, Z should lead in the trick with the ten of clubs, lead the queen of diamonds and follow with the ten of hearts. Whether A wins this trick or not, Y Z must make five tricks.

(b) Suppose at trick one B decides to lead the ten of clubs at the trick with the ten of clubs, lead the queen of diamonds and follow with the ten of hearts. If Y is allowed to win this trick, he should lead the queen of diamonds and Z should again discard the eight of spades. From now on the play is similar to the first solution and Y Z must again win five of the eight tricks.

If at trick two A had led the queen of hearts and followed with the six, Z must again win five of the eight tricks.

WOMENHousehold
HintsBE NOT MERELY YOURSELF--BUT
YOUR BEST SELFClever Women Observe that a Whole Is the Sum of
All of Its Parts

When one has spent a week from home, upon return she is seized with a cleaning fever, and a general upset and rearrangement of furniture ensues. She just hadn't noticed how colors and faded her pillow coverings had become; how worn her curtains appeared; how really disgraceful that corner table looked all littered; or that those knickknacks on the shelf had a helter-skelter appearance.

So she sets to work--buys a can of paint, varnishes new coverings, or a new lamp shade, and transforms the room.

Clever women go through the same transformation with their personal appearance. When one sees just the members of their family, business associates, or a few relatives. There is nothing like meeting a classy stranger, who gives her the once-over and up-and-down for making her squirm, and wonder why she had never noticed before that those good stockings simply never could harmonize with her dress. She has an uneasy feeling that other things are wrong, too, so the minute she reaches home, she rushes to a mirror, and with a frown of the snarly dressed stranger in her mind, surveys herself with critical eye. First, she is struck with the lack of unity and distinction in her appearance, so she delves in quest of the causes. She should have cleaned off the blouse--dirt, plain dirt, is visible about the neck; and that neck isn't the same color as her face--it hadn't been creamed and powdered; and then her face looked all right from the front with her hair combed that way, but from a profile view it was hideous; and really, her ankles appeared much neater in a snugger, higher pump; and so on, and on.

The family may strenuously object if she introduces a radical change in hairstyle, or plasters on a bright rouge found to be more becoming than that conservative shade, but if she insists upon not being herself for once, she may, in the end, find her real self.

And then wouldn't the family set up a howl if she went back to her former dowdiness!

"JUST THE TICKET"

Aren't they cute--the little Dutch couple, the girl so plumply sprawled, and the lad with his high hat? And they're no trick at all to make--just a few bits of cloth applied on with cross-stitch, and a simple design embroidered in outline and cross stitch. If you want a new bridge table cover for the St. Patrick's party, this pattern could be worked out in dark green applique on a light green or ivory background. An Easter combination of yellow and green in the center of a luncheon cloth, with cross stitch running all around the border.

Tasty Salads in Winter

Fresh Vegetables Not Needed In These Cold
Weather Foods

SALADS, because of their great and growing popularity, are now all-the-year-round favorites instead of summer-time delicacies. In the cold-weather months we need these zestful, appetite- provokers quite as much as in summer. And although fresh vegetables and fruits are not generally available in cold weather, we find a surprising number of delicious things to take their places. One winter-time favorite is:

Tuna Fish Salad

1 pint boiling water; 1 package lemon gelatin; 1 cup celery, finely chopped; 1/2 green pepper, finely chopped; 1/2 onion; juice 1/2 lemon; 1/2 teaspoon Cayenne; 3 teaspoons horseradish, drained; 2 cups tuna fish, flaked.

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water.

Pour thin layer into loaf pan. Chill until firm, combine celery, green pepper, onion, juice, salt, Cayenne, and horseradish. Place 1/2 of vegetables in mold. Cover with gelatin. Chill until firm. Add tuna fish and another layer of gelatin. Chill again until firm. Add remaining vegetables and gelatin. Chill until firm. Unmold, serve in 1/2 inch slices on crisp cabbage leaves. Garnish with mayonnaise. Serve 8.

Another popular cold-weather dish is:

Mediterranean Salad

Pimiento, green pepper, rings, and cut in sections; 2 oranges, free from membrane and cut in sections; 10 maraschino cherries, halved; 1/2 cup mayonnaise.

Arrange grapefruit and orange sections and cherries on crisp inside leaves of cabbage. Garnish with mayonnaise. Serves 6.

would be particularly appropriate for next month.

General Mints on Winter Salads

Choose a combination of winter fruits or vegetables that will be colorful and appetizing. For example, combine apples with grated carrots, or garnish apple salad with pimento.

Meat and fish salads are excellent in winter because these foods combine so well with celery, apple and other plentiful foods. When fresh salad greens, such as lettuce and watercress, are hard to obtain, use the tender inside leaves of cabbage instead.

Pickles, served with salads in winter time are particularly appetizing. When using canned fruits, drain thoroughly before combining with dressing or arranging for serving.

Garnishes for winter salads are:

Pimento, or green pepper rings, slices of stuffed olives, slices of red apples, with skins on; cucumber pickles; hard-boiled eggs; beets or other bright-colored vegetables; maraschino cherries, whole or in sections; shredded coconut; lemon slices sprinkled with chopped parsley.

BONNETS IN SPRING

With Easter occurring just one month from today, it behoves us to wonder what new notions style will manage to insinuate into the Easter attire. Even though many are not gifted with check books to be used

If this were used on a child's pillow, the Dutchness might be emphasized by using red and yellow applique against a tan field; Sister might like the effect of an old-fashioned print applied on a solid color, with a ruffle of the print running all around. Lavender and green organdy or satin makes a delicate combination for a handkerchief holder.

A wall hanging in this design on lined or felt is clever and quickly catches the eye. Rose and forest green, or two shades of blue outlined in black, appear nicely on a wall.

whenever the mood appears, there is one article that is necessary to even the humblest--an Easter bonnet.

Spring and picture hats are inseparable. Here is shown one of the new larger brims, black straw, edged with apple green, and banded with sprigs of flowers and leaves. Simple--but alluring. Small-brimmed hats are being worn this season, and designers of off-the-face hats are using their cleverest craftsmanship, endeavoring to hold their protégés in favor.

WHICH SPOON GOES
NEXT TO THE KNIFE?No, the Dish Won't Elope
With the Spoon; He
Shan't Touch Him

Company is expected for Sunday dinner. Daughter is told to set the table. Presently, as is frequently the case, she comes into the kitchen with the query, "Do the bread and butter plates go at the head of the plate, to the right, or where?"

The dinner is to be an informal one, so you answer that they are placed to the left, above the forks.

Rules galore govern the setting of a table and the service. Most of them are sensible rules, but some few have been invented for use by the wealthy classes, and are not practical or even possible for many hostesses. Knowledge of them all, in their places, is necessary, but today we will discuss only those points which the average Antioch or Lake Villa hostess would follow. Cocktails or soup entrees are not commonly served. Meat, potatoes, a vegetable, a scalloped dish, salad, rolls, pickles, dessert, and coffee is the basis of the meal, with choice in meat, vegetable, and scalloped dishes, pickles and dessert. Continue:

A plate dinner is one of the simplest methods of serving the main course. The meat, potatoes, gravy scalloped dish, and vegetable, if it be one that is not prepared in milk, may be piled on the plates in the kitchen. The salad, when coffee is served with the main course, is placed on the left of the plate; otherwise to the right.

When the guests are seated, they should find the napkin to the left of the forks, the glass of water at the tip of the knife, spoons--in fact, all the silverware--arranged in order of use, bread and butter plate with a butter spreader and pat of butter at the head of the forks, salad to the left.

If a plate dinner is not served, the host either fills the plates and passes them down the line, the first to the hostess, the next to the person to her right, etc.; or he passes the food to the one on his right, who serves himself and passes the food on.

After the first course is finished, everything is removed except the coffee cups and spoons. Water glasses are refilled and hot coffee poured in the cups.

The dessert, which may be pie or a la mode, cake and an ice, or fluff, or a pudding, is then brought in. The hostess who does not have a maid will serve the person on her right first, and then around the table.

This brief and somewhat general sketch will prove a guide for the correct placing of silverware and china. Further details on table appearance and service will follow in subsequent articles.

Hebrew Money

The monetary system of the Hebrews was based upon the Babylonian system of weights. The ratio of the value of gold to silver was 1:13:18 and prevailed over all western Asia.

"I wonder if we can read the secrets of the pool," exclaimed Toppy. He ran to the pool, and gazed down into its deep water, but could see nothing.

In his disappointment he cried, "I thought we could find out what our enemies are doing, like the Queen did."

"Even if we could, what good would it do us? Listen! There are some soldiers returning to watch that we do not escape from this room. You see?"

Mr. Frog pointed out. "We can't warn the Queen."

"No, I suppose not," answered the little boy. Then he brightened. "If all the Pillows have to go to war, then maybe we can rescue our Queen."

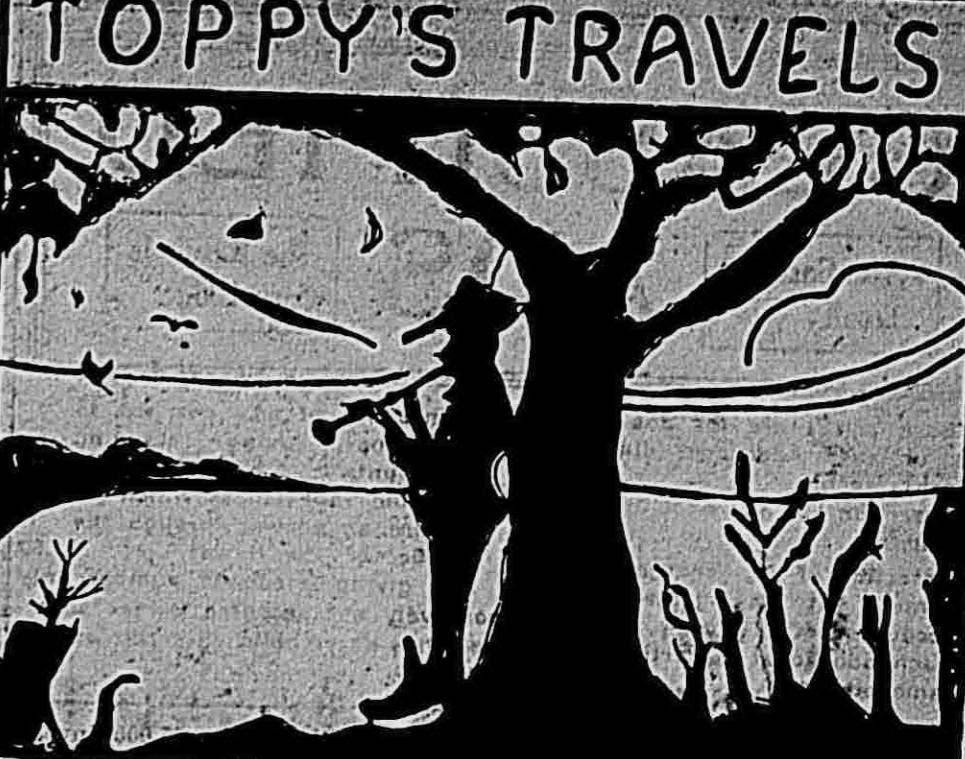

"Yes, we will have to wait," Mr. Frog told him. "But it may not be for long."

"Where have you left Toy, and what did you do in the Land of the Cushions?" Toppy asked, remembering his little friend.

"What difference does it make to you?" Mr. Frog demanded. "You did not stay in your hiding place did you?"

"I did!" Toppy denied hotly. He

TOPPY'S TRAVELS

Synopsis: Toppy leaves home to follow his canary. After many adventures, he escapes from his enemies, the Pillows. His friends, Mr. Frog and Toy, the dewdrop, go to another land to arrange for the Cushions to fight the Pillows. Thus they hope to rescue their Cloud-Queen, whose land is invaded by the Pillows. Mr. Frog returns and he and Toppy escape the Pillows and enter the secret room.

"You aren't going to sleep, are you?" the boy asked.

"Why not?" inquired Mr. Frog drowsily.

"Because I want to know where Toy is," objected Toppy.

"Oh, I might tell you some time. Don't bother me," Mr. Frog said in an irritated voice. He opened his eyes wide for a moment and glared, then lapsed into slumber.

Toppy turned away wearily, and stared miserably into the pool. Guards were constantly passing his door, and talking or rattling on the door, so Toppy couldn't rest. He wondered how Mr. Frog could sleep.

Wandering about the room, which seemed to him to be like fairylane, except that he did not feel like a fairy, he tried to think of a way to rescue his Queen. But every thought that came to him seemed more impossible than the one before, and he wondered what his teacher would say if she saw him so mixed up. The Snowball probably wouldn't think that he knew so much now. Thinking about the Snowball caused him to wonder once more what had happened to Toy.

He began to sing softly to himself. But for some reason, this annoyed Mr. Frog, who sat up and growled. "Idiot! What are you trying to do? Imitate the squeaking mouse?"

"I hadn't meant to," Toppy answered carefully. "Does it sound that way to you?"

"It does," asserted Mr. Frog. "And if it might interest you any, the squeaking mouse is a very bitter enemy of mine."

"Why?"

"Why?" Mr. Frog echoed. "Because he was born that way."

"That's funny," Toppy remarked, as much to himself as to his companion.

"Funny! Bah!" And with a disgusted air Mr. Frog dived into the pool.

LEGAL AUTO KNOTS

Conducted by the legal department
AUTOMOBILE CLUB OF ILLINOIS

This column is at the disposal of our readers who may be confronted with knotty legal problems pertaining to the use and operation of their automobile. Write your questions to "Ask Me" Editor, care of this paper and they will be answered in forthcoming issue. Enclose a stamped envelope for an immediate reply.

Last year I had a Coupe. This year I converted it into a light box delivery vehicle. Must I now get a truck license?—V.B.

ANS: Yes.

"A" buys a car on a conditional sale contract. Later he defaults on payment. The finance company then pulls the car and sold it, but on the sale they did not get the whole amount due them. Now they are attempting to collect the balance from "A." Have they a legal claim against "A" having already pulled his car?—C.O.E.

ANS: Yes. The purchaser is personally liable on the conditional sale contract and if the finance company does not get the amount they are entitled to by the sale of the auto, then they can sue "A" for the balance.

"A" owns a car. The car is later stolen from him and the driver has an accident with a car driven by "B." "B" is now trying to collect from "A" for his damage claiming that "A" was responsible because his car was in the accident. Is this right?—A.B.

ANS: No. The owner of the car is not liable, there being no agency relation between the driver and the owner, as the car was stolen from the owner and was being held for the following:

ELECTION NOTICE

Notice is hereby given, that on Tuesday, the twenty-first day of April, 1931, at the Village Hall in the Village of Antioch, in the County of Lake and State of Illinois, an Election will be held for the following:

One Village President,

Three Village Trustees,

Two Library Directors,

First day for filing, February 20, 1931.

Last day for filing, March 17, 1931.

Which Election will be opened at 7 o'clock in the morning, and will continue open until 5 o'clock in the afternoon of the same day.

Given under my hand at the Village of Antioch, the twentieth day of February, A. D. 1931.

HARRY A. ISAACS,

Village Clerk.

BIDS WANTED

Sealed bids for widening state boulevard No. 21, known as Main street, Antioch, Ill., at the intersection of Orchard street, will be received by the street and alley committee of the Board of Trustees of said village not later than March 21 at 12 o'clock noon. Bids may be left at the office of H. P. Lowry, chairman of the street and alley committee, and all bids must be accompanied by a certified check for five (5) per cent of the bid.

Specifications are now on file at the office of H. P. Lowry.

The village board of trustees reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

H. P. LOWRY,
J. B. DROM,
E. O. HAWKINS,
Committee.

Giantic Structure

What is said to be the largest collection of newspapers in the world has been opened to the public in a newspaper museum at Aix-en-Chapelle, Germany. Among its collection of 150,000 newspapers are curiosities from all over the world, including an Eskimo paper from the middle of last century.

Large Newspaper Collection

Herodotus estimated that 100,000 men were engaged for 20 years in building the Great pyramid.

Dividend Printing

There is one kind of printing that you want—printing that pays a dividend on the investment.

A letterhead with right sort of type properly balanced is a real business asset. It wins the approval of the person receiving your letter, and while he is in this frame of mind your letter is read.

The same reasoning applies to any other job of printing. Neatness, weight and kind of paper, color of the ink, the selection of the type, all play an important part in the production of dividend printing.

We are equipped to give you that kind of printing. Let us prove it to you.

CHANNEL LAKE COUNTRY CLUB NEWS

The members of the club were grieved to learn of the death of Frank Fender, husband of Emma M. Fender, and father of Mrs. Paul Volk, Mrs. Jack Budge and the late George Fender.

It was quite a coincidence that on the same day of Mr. Fender's funeral and from the same chapel, the funeral of another member of our club was held. George W. Meyer, late of 629 Addison street, passed away on Tuesday, February 9, from the effects of peritonitis, following an operation the previous day. Mrs. Meyer accompanied the remains to Springfield, Ill., for burial, and immediately afterward was taken so ill that she had to go to a hospital there. It may be some time before she is able to return to Chicago.

COUPLE CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING

Wisconsin. Ten years were spent in the West, during which time he married, and then he and his family returned to Wisconsin.

Both Mr. and Mrs. McGreal are in fine health, and are possessed of a cheerful optimism. Neither are hard of hearing and their vision is clear.

Mrs. McGreal can turn out a good cake today as when there were more mouths to feed. Her simple hospitality and joy in living as she served the writer, who is now invested with pardonable pride, with a piece of her golden anniversary cake, was good to see.

A family party of the children and their families was held at the house Thursday. They were: Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McGreal, Jr., and family, of Waukegan; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Haun, of Kenosha; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Reinko, John and Arthur McGreal.

Two of the children, who live in Idaho, were unable to be present, and eight of the twelve grandchildren were absent.

Thus happily did this couple enjoy a momentous milestone of their married life.
